ANNOVA Systems strengthen its project team

Munich – 25/10/2011 ANNOVA Systems welcomes 34year old diploma Engineer Daniel Klein as a new Project Engineer in its team. From November 2011 he will support the OpenMedia team.

Prior to that, he gathered invaluable experience as Broadcast Engineer/Software Developer at the broadcast channel ZDF for 6 years. His work included an encoding system for the ZDF media center as well as planning a SAN-system and the installation & operation of a live-streaming-platform. Working on projects will continue at ANNOVA Systems. He will get the opportunity to attend to international clients. For a smooth start and to help him adjust his complex task, Daniel Klein will be integrated in a project team, which works for a Swiss channel first.

„We are looking forward to work with Daniel. He is a young, talented media expert, with who we are able to expand our project team as well as responding flexibly to changing customer demands.“ explains Michael Schüller, CEO of ANNOVA.
